Key Trends in Business Services

Six developments across the five sectors, fourth quarter 2026

Fire and life safety consolidation

22

Pye-Barker Fire & Safety completed 22 acquisitions in the first half of 2026 (Pye-Barker) after 57 in 2025 (Pye-Barker, March 17). APi Group grew 10.1% organically in the second quarter and reported a backlog above $5 billion (APi Group).

Acquirers compete most actively for contracted inspection and service work.

10-year Treasury yield

4.99%

The Federal Reserve raised its target range to 3.75% to 4.00% on September 16 (Federal Reserve), and the 10-year Treasury yield averaged 4.99% in September (FRED). Average total debt on platform acquisitions fell to 2.9x EBITDA from 3.4x (GF Data via ACG).

Costlier debt puts a premium on documented earnings and contracted customers.

Engineering backlog and staffing

88%

The median engineering firm holds 12 months of backlog, and 88% of firms report at least one open position (ACEC). Bernhard Capital agreed to buy Bowman for about $1.0 billion of enterprise value, a 58% premium (Bowman).

Buyers of engineering firms are paying for licensed staff and funded backlog.

Commercial insurance pricing

Commercial premiums fell 2% on average in the second quarter, with property down 6.3% (Insurance Journal). Aon agreed on August 31 to buy USI from KKR for $17 billion including debt (Insurance Journal, September 21).

Small commercial and casualty accounts are seeing the least pricing pressure.

Staffing revenue recovery

+5%

Median staffing revenue grew 5% in August, the fastest growth since late 2022 (Staffing Industry Analysts). Temporary help employment remains 21% below its March 2022 peak (BLS via FRED).

Skilled trades, engineering, and healthcare placements are drawing the acquirers.

Advertising demand and AI

+9.6%

US advertising revenue is forecast to grow 9.6% in 2026 (MediaPost composite). Marketing budgets hold at 7.8% of company revenue, with 15.3% of those budgets directed to AI (Gartner via Marketing Dive).

Retained clients, first-party data, and measurable outcomes hold their value.

WHAT IT MEANS FOR OWNERS

Buyers pay most readily for revenue that repeats under contract. Completed middle-market transactions averaged 7.0x EBITDA in the second quarter (GF Data via ACG), the average multiple on sales of $5 million to $50 million reached 5.8x (IBBA and M&A Source), and 87% of sales above $5 million drew three or more offers (IBBA and M&A Source release).

Figures as of October 7, 2026. The 10-year Treasury figure is the monthly average for September 2026. GF Data figures are averages on trailing adjusted EBITDA. EBITDA is earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization.

Our View

Expectations for the fourth quarter and the first half of 2027

OUR VIEW

The lower middle market has decoupled from the headline deal market.

Global M&A fell 41% from the second quarter on the rate move, but the decline sits in the largest transactions. Three-quarters of buyouts are add-ons financed off platform facilities and sponsor equity committed before the Fed hike, and the sub-$50 million market printed its highest multiple since early 2022 with three or more offers on 87% of sales above $5 million. We expect that spread to persist through the first half of 2027: GF Data's averages drift toward the mid-6x range as leverage keeps compressing, while business services transactions under $50 million hold between 5.5x and 6.0x, because the buyers are consolidators pricing route density and contract renewals rather than the cost of debt.

3.75% to 4.00%	Federal funds target after the September 16 increase
2.9x	Average total debt on platform deals, down from 3.4x
87%	Sales above $5 million that drew three or more offers

STRUCTURE BEFORE PRICE

With platform leverage at 2.9x and senior debt priced at 7.8%, buyers close the gap with rollover equity, earnouts, and seller notes rather than lower headline numbers. Cash at close, now 83% to 92%, moves toward the low end of that range in 2027, so the owners who do best decide early how much deferred consideration they will accept and on what metric.

TIMING

The Fed raised rates into a labor market adding 66,000 jobs a month, with unemployment at 4.2% and engineering executives putting recession odds at 41%. An owner with a renewal book or funded backlog has a better story in the first quarter of 2027 than after a softer year shows up in trailing figures, which argues for preparing now and going to market early in the new year.

BY SECTOR

Commercial & facility	Fire and life safety stays the most contested corner of business services, and the premium narrows to inspection-led, contracted revenue with company-held licenses, which is what Pye-Barker, APi, and AI Fire are paying for.
Marketing, sales & tech-enabled	The 9.6% advertising forecast masks a repricing inside agencies. Buyers pay for retained vertical specialists, proprietary data, and measurable outcomes, and labor-hour billing models see multiple compression as AI takes the production work.
Engineering, architecture & consulting	Bernhard taking Bowman private at roughly 22x reported EBITDA and a 58% premium while the listed group trades at 15x shows private capital valuing licensed staff and a year of backlog well above the public market. Founder-owned firms with power, water, and data center backlog have an open window; federally exposed firms do not.
Financial & insurance	Softening premiums slow organic growth, so the aggregators lean harder on acquisitions and Aon's purchase of USI restarts large-cap consolidation. Agency prices hold, with more of the consideration tied to retention.
Staffing & human capital	The recovery is concentrated in engineering, industrial, and healthcare placements, while temporary help employment sits 21% below its 2022 peak, so specialty firms should prepare to sell into improving comparables in 2027 and generalist commercial staffing should wait.

Feature: Fire and Life Safety

Why inspection and service revenue draws acquirers

Pye-Barker alone bought 79 fire and security companies in the eighteen months to June 2026, and APi Group, Sciens Building Solutions, and AI Fire are buying alongside it.

1 The work is contracted or mandated
Inspection, testing, and monitoring repeat on a schedule, so the revenue continues when new construction slows.

2 Acquired branches add density
A buyer that already runs routes in a region can serve an acquired book of accounts with the technicians it has.

3 Inspection leads the customer relationship
APi bought CertaSite, with about $90 million of revenue, because the business leads with inspections and earns repair and service work from them.

An owner in this field should expect to be asked what share of revenue comes from inspection, monitoring, and service agreements, whether the licenses are held by the company or by the owner personally, and how long the technicians have been with the business.

Listed multiples are priced at the October 16, 2026 close and use reported EBITDA. Rollins is a pest control company and is included as a route-based comparison.
